

Fine dining is one thing; but delicious, finger-licking, Fat Mama food is in another league!

Located in the heart of the trendy Budapest, the name Fat Mama says it all, and we couldn't resist.

And Fat Mama was right!

Absolutely fantastic, and very reasonably priced. This is the kind of place where you leave your dinner jacket and pearls at home, and instead bring your appetite.

The atmosphere is homey, and the crew is friendly.

Lots of interesting people!

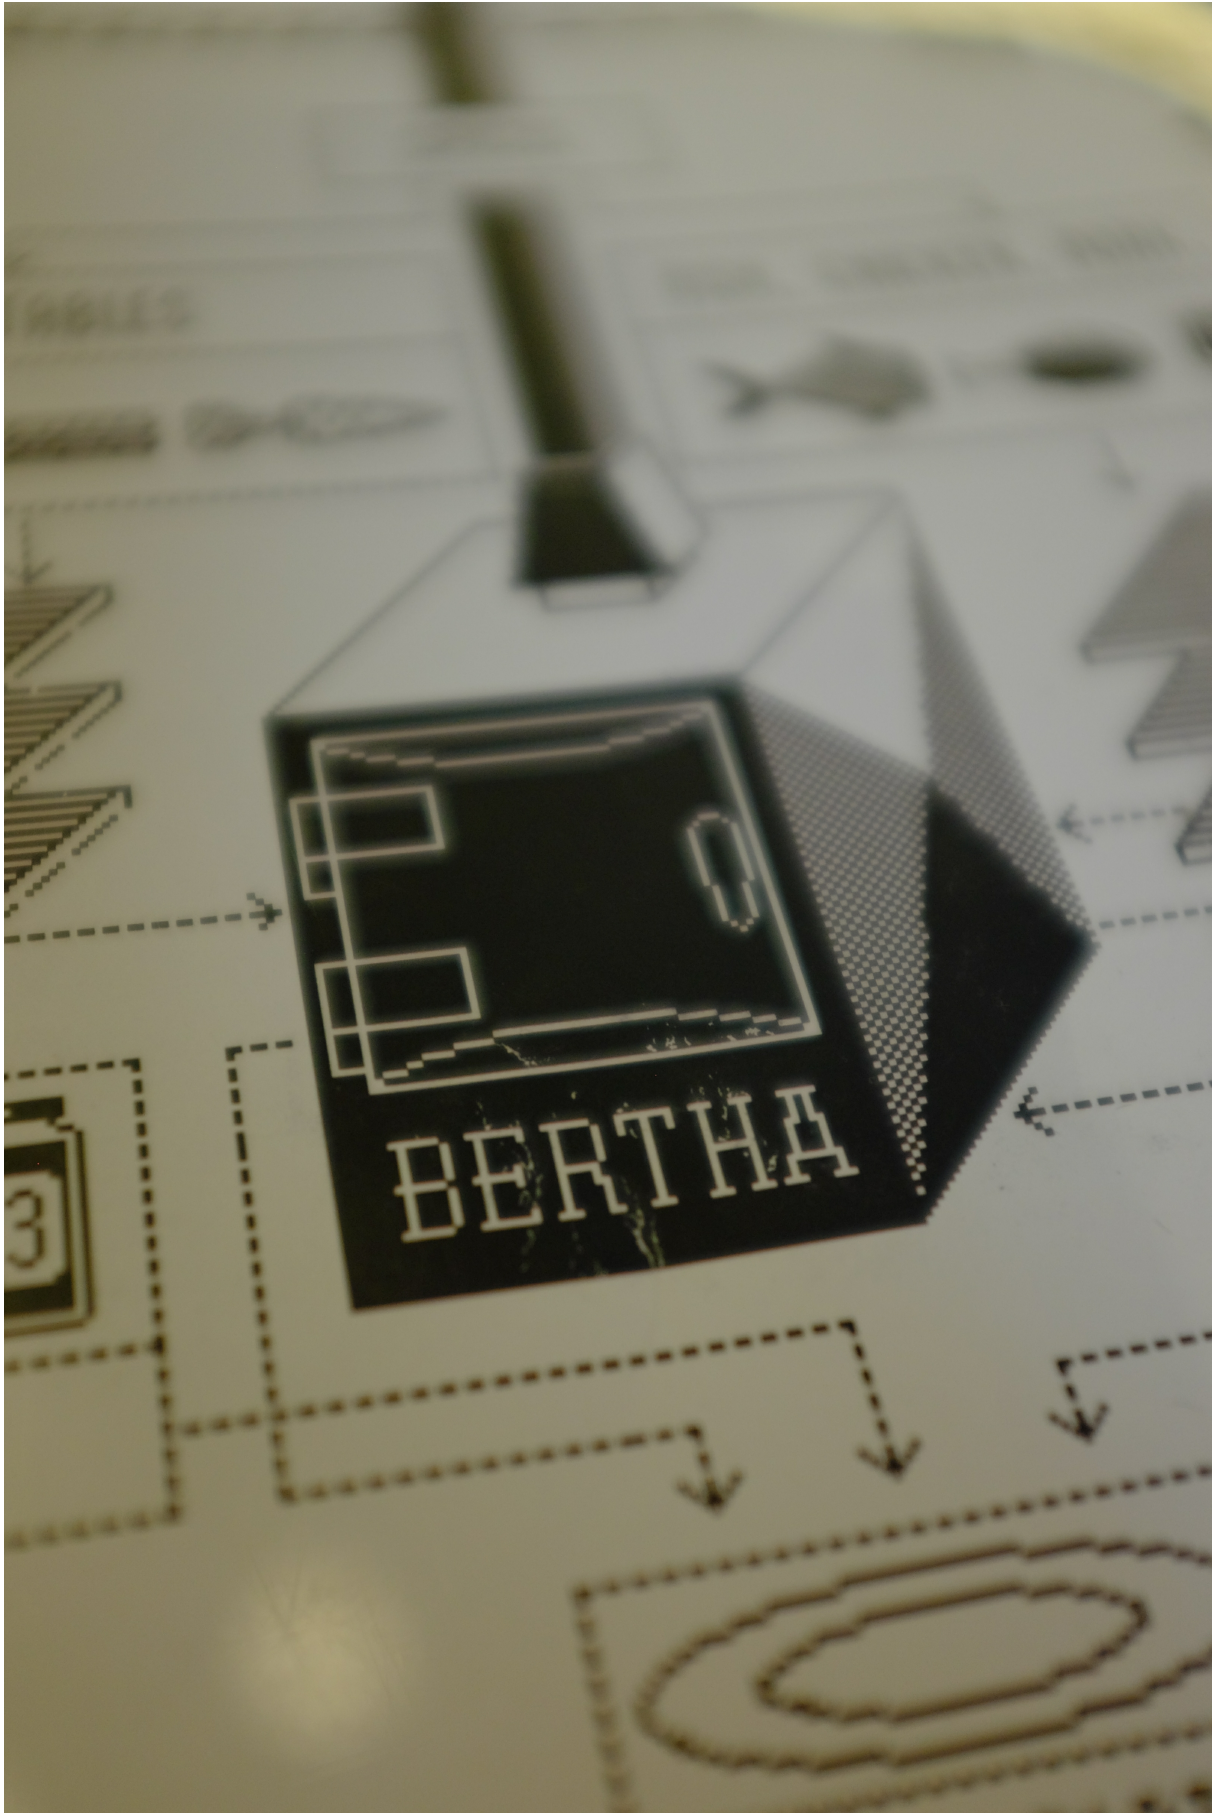

Fill your table, fill your tummy!

But the real secret to Fat Mama is Big Bertha...

She's a massive cast iron oven, where your meat of choice is cooked to juicy perfection!

The dishes are saucy, and the meat so tender it just melts in your mouth delighting the palate.

Desserts too, of course!

So when visiting Budapest, and missing your Mama's cooking, let Fat Mama adopt you for a meal, and come away with a smile!
