

Party people who scoff at leisurely Friday brunches, and instead want to rock their weekends, this is for you!

Above is the photo before the karaoke started!

A happening and very well-equipped music club, with full-on lighting, lasers, smoke effects - you name it, Brunch Out Loud blasted Friday into kingdom come!

You know you're in for something special when Mr DJ is wearing a Nacho Libre face mask!

Pitchers of the Tequila-based drink... by the gallon!

But let's start at the beginning...

And on the 6th floor, accessible only by guarded lift and from a private entrance, the music club Lucky Voice proposes a riotous entertainment that is truly second to none in Dubai - the place is rockin'!!

Your tables as you arrive are filled with party props:

And a glance at the bar, and you know this is a serious party place!

At the same time, it's classy and professional, and the atmosphere is friendly and conducive to a good time.

Animators are ready with a variety of fun games to get you involved, and soon the karaoke starts, as well as lip-synch competitions.

Also, the food was of excellent quality!

Served to your table in waves, there were platters of finger food to please all, including seafood, pulled pork sliders, spicy wings, glazed ribs, and of course Mexican specials!

Clearly, the club kitchens are hosted by a five-star hotel.

Because partying hard in Dubai doesn't mean forsaking good food.

And at Brunch Out Loud the fun was real and palpable, with everyone having a great time, and many taking their chances up on stage, to roars of support from a home crowd - the camaraderie that spread like wildfire as soon as the first brave souls took to the mike was a wonderful thing to experience.

At Lucky Voice indeed the patrons were the lucky ones; and all the props, the lighting, the DJ booth, the food, the drinks, and the service became the background, the enablers, for a Friday brunch like no other - total fun times!
