During the Culinary Season in Abu Dhabi a select number of world-class Michelin-starred chefs are invited to present at the UAE capital's top restaurants – in this case the splendid 18 Degrees at Andaz Capital Gate Abu Dhabi.

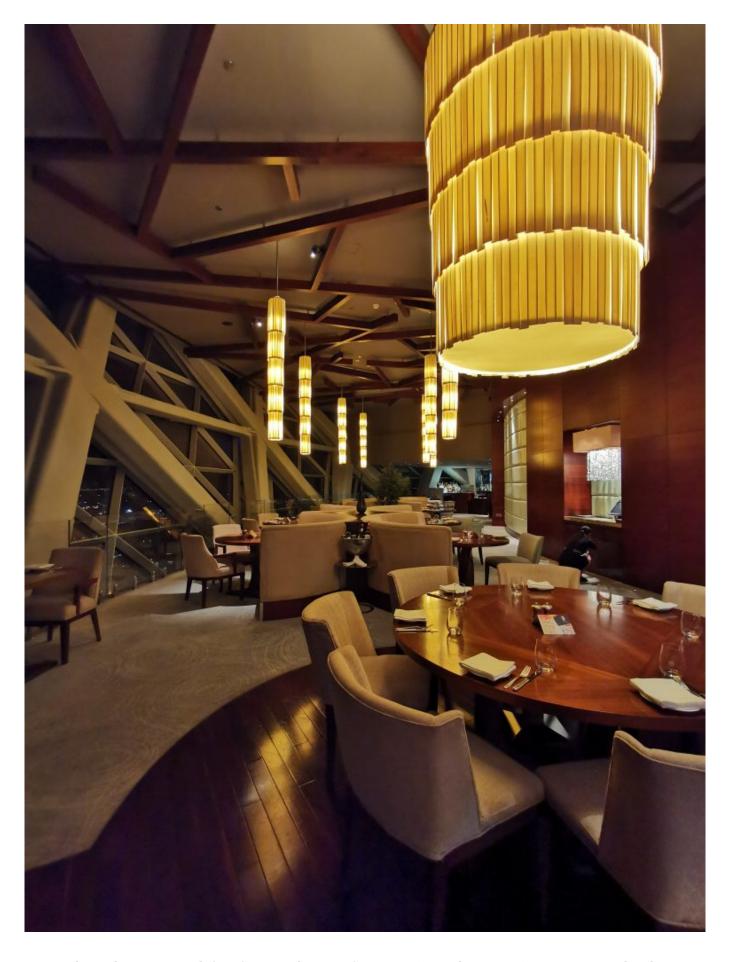

Chef Matteo Rizzo, from Italy, worked with the 18 Degrees team to deliver a 4-course gourmet dinner, representing his adaptation of favorites from his family restaurant in Verona, Il Desco.

The resulting fine-dining experience is a treat for Abu Dhabi's connoisseurs!

Firstly, the venue is spectacular on any night, regardless of celebrity chef visits...

Chef Matteo Rizzo opened with a simple and even rustic Italian favorite, a Panzanella salad, set on a bed of the creamiest burrata, and topped with a crunchy prawn.

The simplicity of this starter allows for the genuine tastes of the quality ingredients to shine through, especially the olive oil. The wine pairing option, should you choose it, connects each course with the ideal wine, in this case a Zonin Prosecco, from Italy.

From simplicity to astounding complexity, Chef Matteo changed gears for the second course!

Can you guess what this is?

I won't spoil the surprise, as you are still in time to experience this delicacy yourself, if you hurry!

The mains offered a choice of three – we went with the tagliatelle al ragù, a slow-cooked duck sauce, with a superb twist that took an excellent dish and made it extraordinary, accompanied by a creamy cheesy Parmesan foam that was simply to die for!

Well-cooked, al dente, and a truly magnificent interpretation of a traditional and beloved pasta dish from northern Italy.

And the sea bass also was delicate and expertly prepared.
