I'll come back to the delights presented as part of Bella's Saturday brunch, but first a view of the ambience.

Situated on the 20th floor, high above Dubai's new and trendy Business Bay district, Bella is exposed to the views yet enclosed in climatized glass – the effect is one of airiness and abundant natural light.

And Bella sports a luxurius and fully-stocked bar.

The bar is at your service attended by a young talented bartender, directly from Italy, Mr Gioele Nocent, who not only was able to mix improvisation into your preference, but also do so with exemplary flavor and flair.

Oh yes!

A marvelous entree of very lively tasting seafood crudi, not only presented as an artistic masterpiece, but also matching in delightful flavors – each morsel is taken with eyes closed in ecstasy, as the palate overloads the brain with sensory pleasure: a magnificent dish!

And this very selective, almost personalized attention to each bite becomes the foundation of the brunch at Bella.

And so went the brunch, course after course of exceptional Italian cuisine.

Battered seafood platter, a favorite all round Italy, of southern origin.

And an innovative and fine interpretation of an incredibly thin and crispy layered burrata “pizza”!

Of course, those were just the appetizers!

Now come the first and second courses, accompanied by appropriate wine selections.

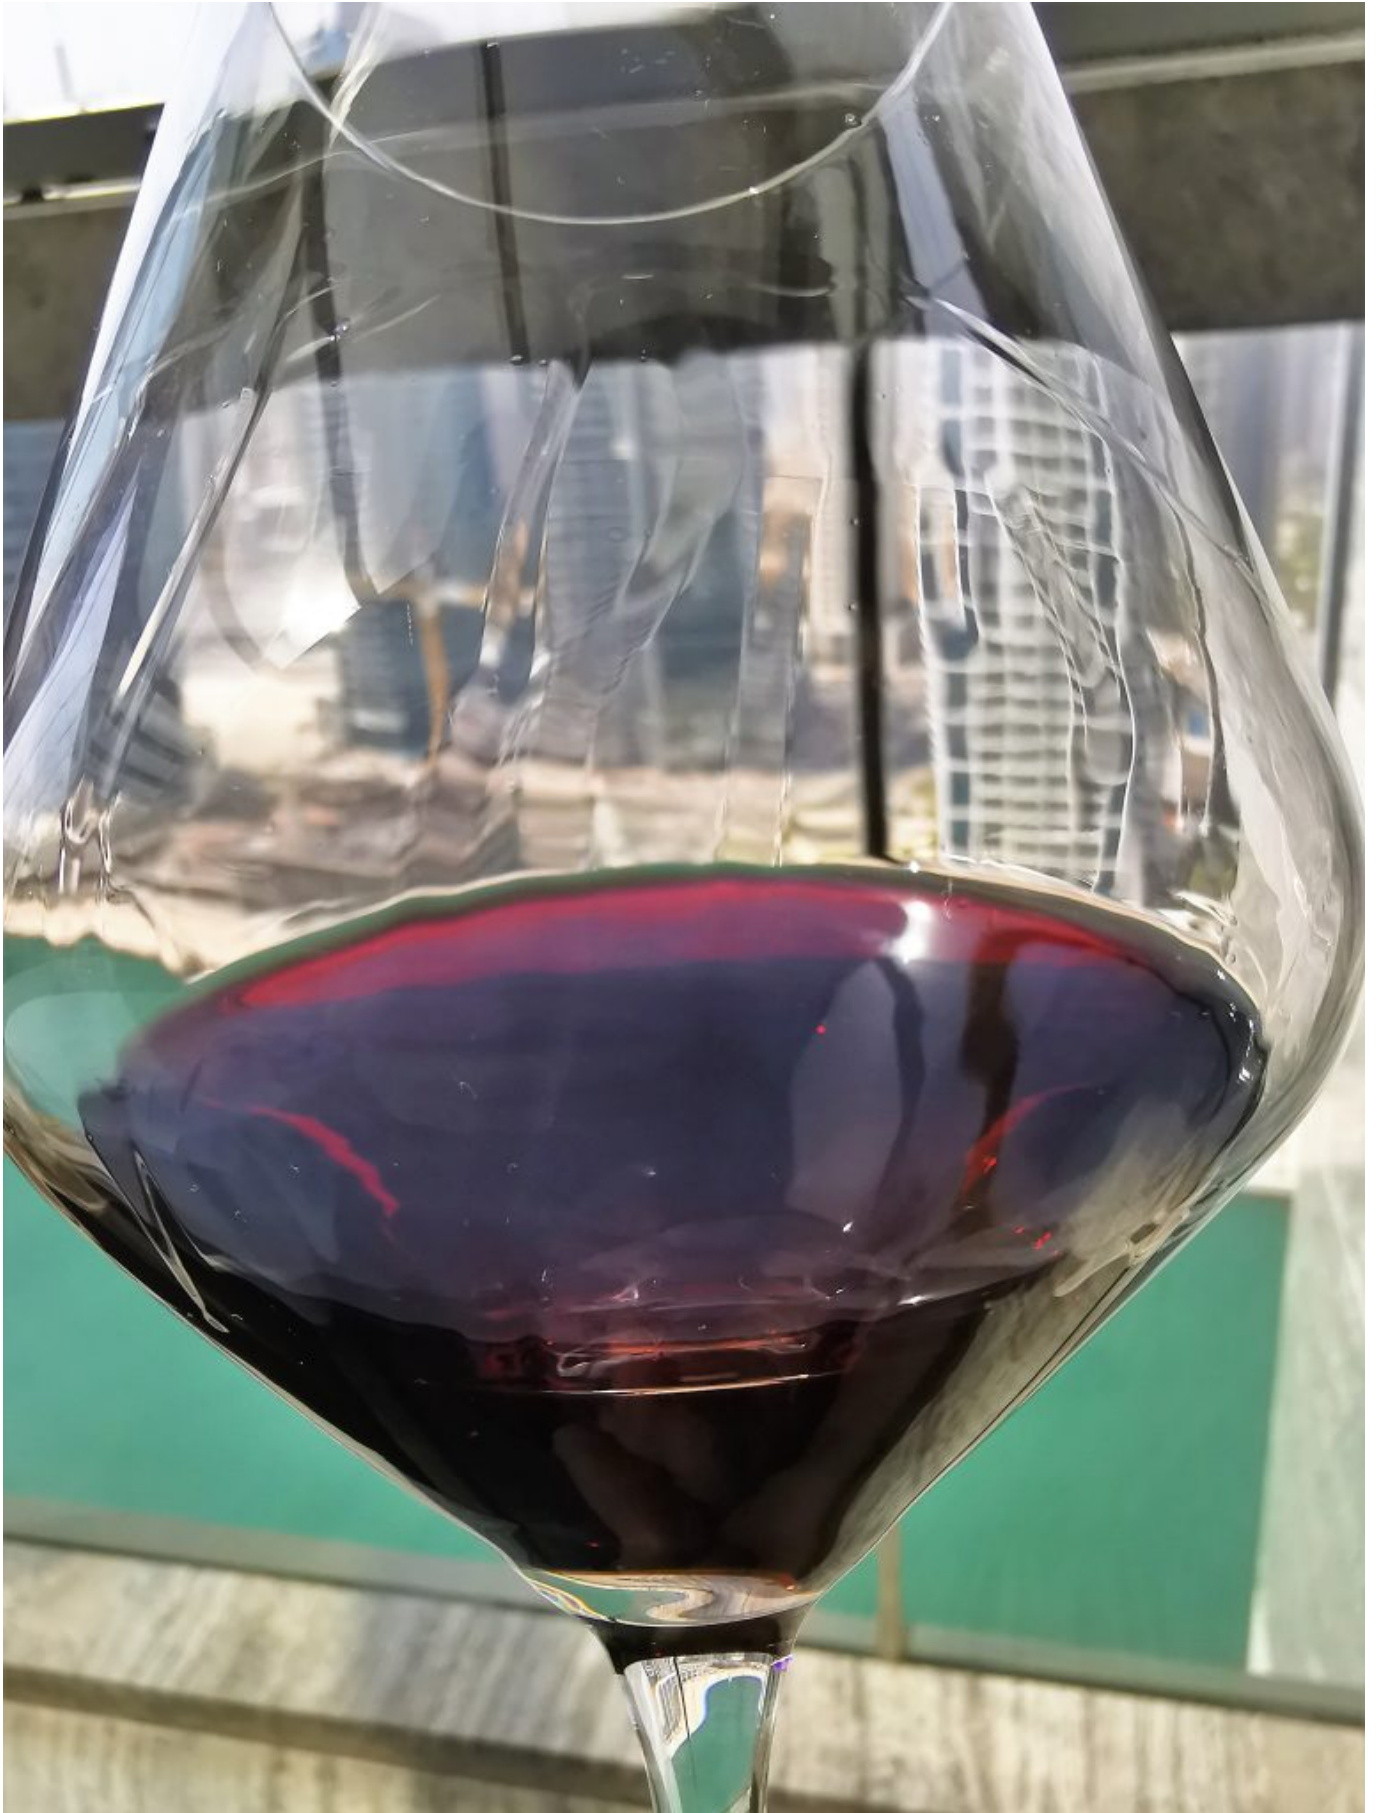

Above, quite a rare pasta choice, and probably the first time you have had the opportunity of sampling, Bigoli with Anchovies and Broccoli Puree; and below, from your choice of three mains, an excellent well-seasoned and juicy grilled Angus striploin steak.
