The bar was in full swing...

And the dessert section was hard to keep until after the meal!

Surely “dessert first” is allowed at the Mega Brunch?

For sure!

And not only the big kids enjoyed their time - the little ones were kept occupied, too!

In fact, a special play area and animations were organized to the delight of the little ones (and their parents!).

But it was the live food stations that stole the show, and especially the Thai dishes!

A marvellous seafood Lakhsa is prepared for you in front of your very eyes,
