Several private booths are available, as are cute tables that invite conversation.

The elegance transfers over to the menus, and the selection of dishes is eclectic – something for everyone, and all tastes are covered.

Whether you are leaning towards tea / coffee and a delicious snack, or going for a full meal, you will find excitement on the menu at Le Chateau!

And of course, nothing less than first class elegance...

Tea is not simply a cup of tea at Le Chateau - it is an experience that starts with the presentation of the finest porcelain, where no detail is left to chance.

Impeccable service, the aroma of the green tea permeates your senses... you know right away this is no ordinary tea, even before you taste it.

The teapot is unique and special, as indeed are you at Le Chateau – you can't help but look at your partner and smile.

And this is how Le Chateau operates.

A refined dining experience, elevated by the combined influence of the environment with the top-choice ingredients: a truly marvelous tea.

And this same philosophy in approach is applied to all menu items.

A simple lentil soup becomes a highlight.

Sliders so perfect they could be exhibited in The Louvre...

... accompanied by cheesy fries of equal masterpiece credentials.

Corners are simply not cut at Le Chateau...

... see the perfection on a single slice of halloumi cheese, part of a fresh salad: a work of culinary art.

And so from starters to desserts, all the way through salads, soups, and main dishes, the same attention to detail prevails.
