But, incredibly, there's more!

A magnificent open-air terrace beckons, and with the cooler weather the elegant rooftop area will certainly move the crowd outdoors.

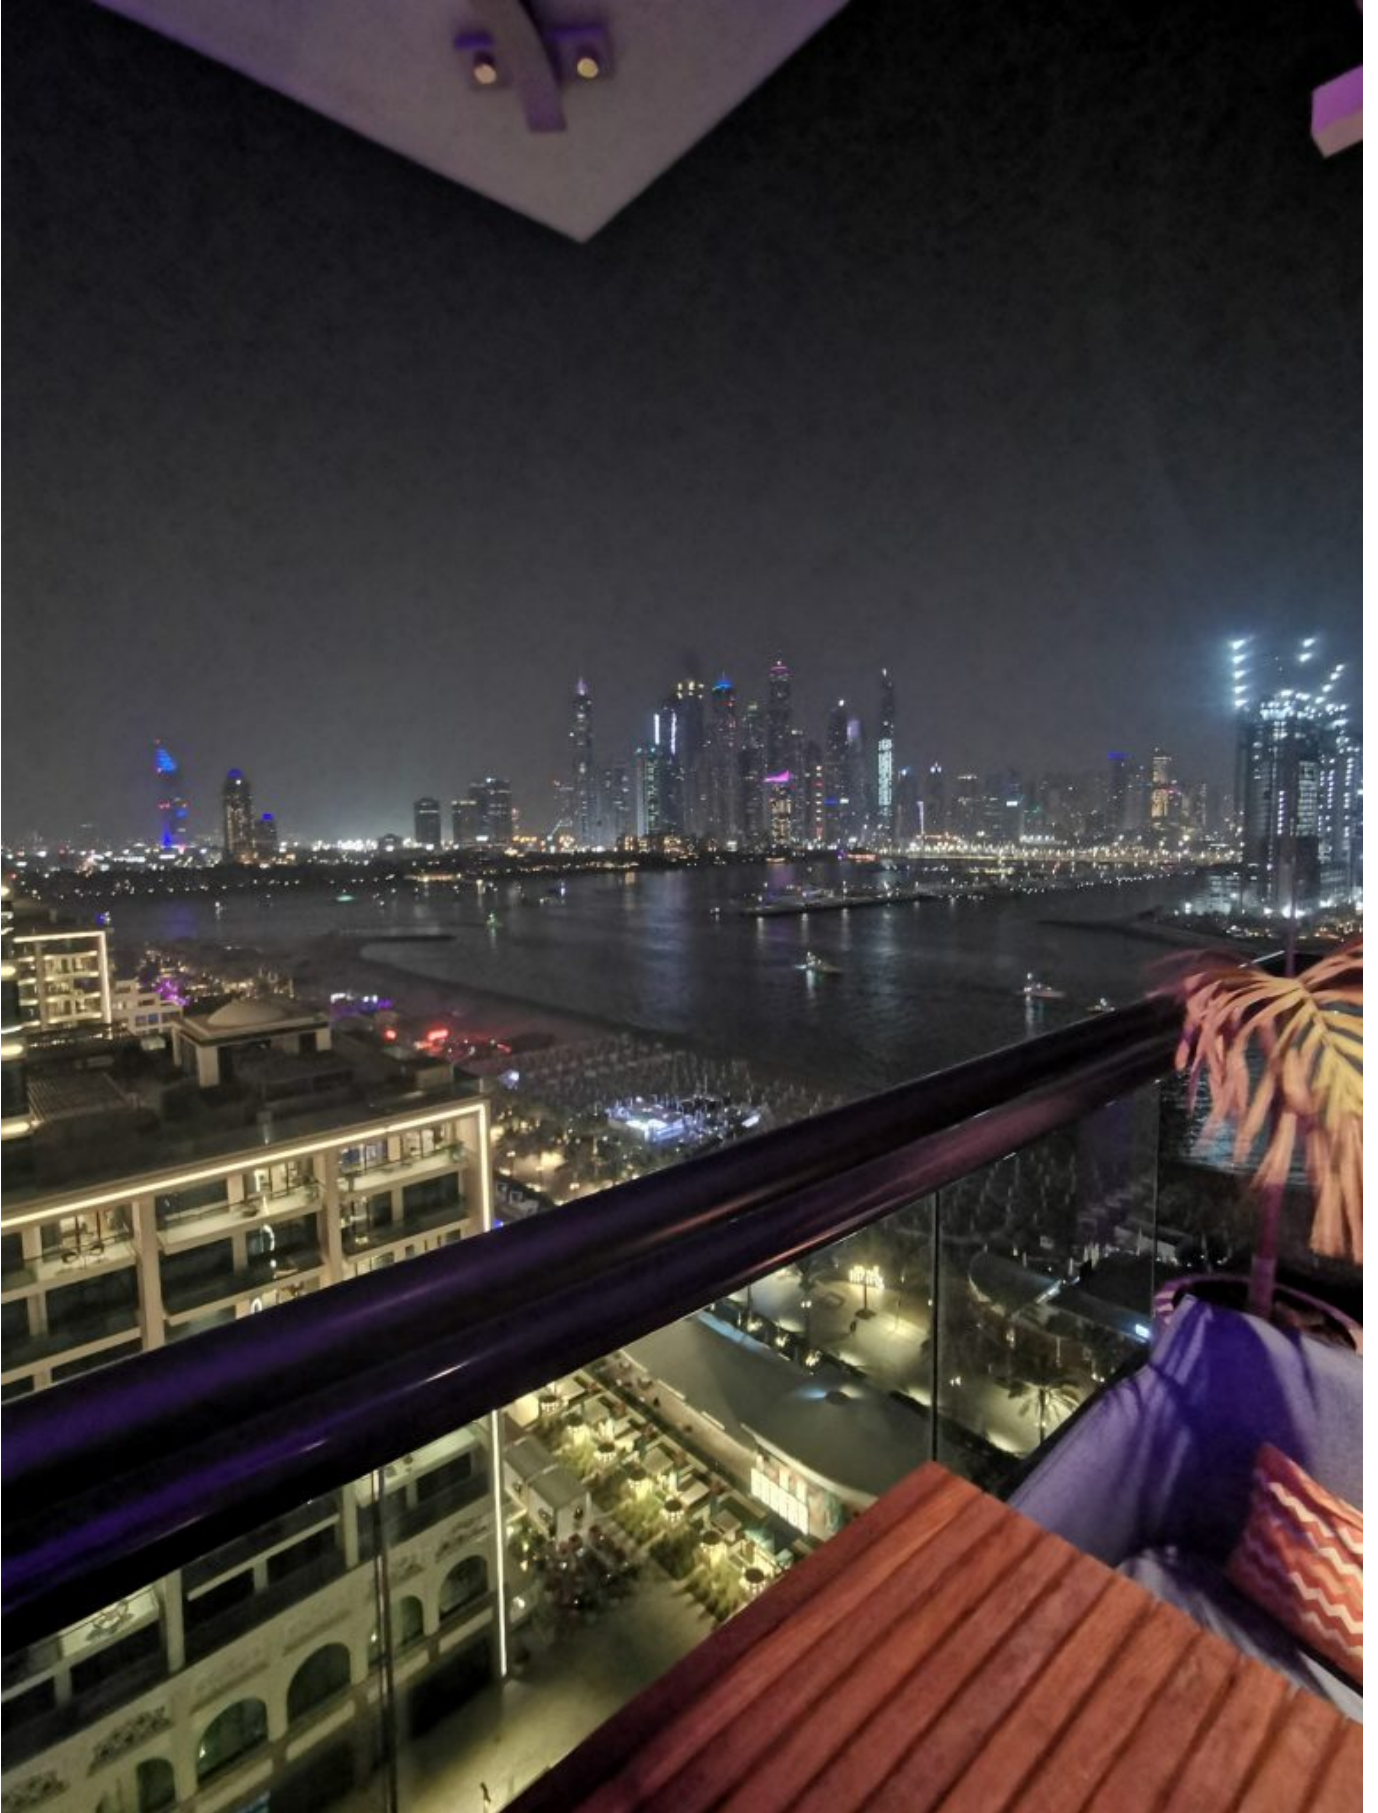

Luckily, there's a bar there, too!!!

Prepared on the spot at Above Eleven's live sushi counter, and served at just the right temperature, with a precise attention to detail.

A full-on delicacy, and I wish we had explored the sushi aspect of Above Eleven more, as I feel there is much expertise there, in a humble, under-stated kind of way.

But it was the South American dishes that took center-stage!
